

Health and Human Services Transformation Panel

Preview of February 27th Meeting

The February 27th Stakeholder Panel meeting has three goals:

1. To engage a broader audience in the issue of transforming our health, human services, and community-based prevention and recovery services into an integrated and accountable system
2. To give meeting participants a first-hand look at the successes several other communities around the country have had in transforming their systems
3. To enable the Health and Human Services Transformation Panel to begin its contribution to the transformation process by identifying the most important strengths in our current systems that we want to build on as we move forward

Our activities on the 27th will follow this basic plan:

1. The morning will involve a larger group (the Transformation Panel members and additional community, service provider, and funder participants) and will be devoted to learning how other communities have succeeded at this challenging endeavor
2. The Transformation Panel will then convene for lunch and begin its discussions
3. Following lunch, the Panel will work together in a facilitated process to develop the underlying principles we want to guide our transformed system and identify the key services the system should provide

So, please commit the time on the 27th to be here for the whole day. We will make very good use of your time! Please feel free to call or email us if you have any questions or concerns.

See you in a couple of weeks!
